Jamestown Commemoration Highlighted at Cub Run RECenter

Like Jamestown centuries ago, Fairfax County is a vibrant place due in large measure to the diverse backgrounds of those who live here. The Fairfax County Park Authority joins in the commemoration of Virginia's cultural heritage by exploring the traditions of Virginia's Indians, Europeans, Africans and others who have played key roles in shaping the Commonwealth.

You can be a part of the activities by participating in Digging Up Virginia, a unique program slated for April 29, 2006 from 1 to 2 pm at Cub Run RECenter in Chantilly. Discover the techniques used by archeologists to learn about Virginia's history from archaeological excavations and primary historical sources, using Jamestown's findings as an example and local ruins as hands-on evidence. Reservations are required for the program and a fee of $5 per person is charged. For reservations and information call 703-817-9407.

Cub Run RECenter is located at 4630 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly, and may be reached by taking Beltway exit 49 to I-66 West, then traveling 11 miles to exit 53B (Sully Rd., Rt. 28N). Exit right on Westfields Blvd. and turn right on Stonecroft Blvd. just before the first stop light. Follow for 1.7 miles to the entrance on the left (next to Westfields High School).
